cyberFEDS anoints Proofpoint as an “awesome new technology”

Washington, DC – March 1, 2011 – Today cyberFEDS® named Proofpoint’s Performance Suite one of its picks for “awesome new technologies”.

About this recognition, Dr. Jim Hill, Proofpoint’s CEO, said, “We’re honored by the news and grateful to the cyberFEDS team for the thorough market research that led them to Proofpoint. We tend to fly under the radar, so this recognition was very much unexpected. Since it was also completely unsolicited, this honor is particularly special.”

The Proofpoint Performance Suite includes more than 20 modules for comprehensive planning, breakthrough analysis, focused execution, and pinpoint measurement. Users have 100% flexibility in the modules they select as part of their self-customized toolkit. Every application is built to fit into the complete suite. And because everything fits together, there are no integration costs; Just select...and go.

Proofpoint has scheduled its next major release for April, promising an exciting new set of features.

As a follow-up to today’s announcement, Proofpoint will be presenting its Performance Suite at the cyberFEDS HR Technology in the Federal Workplace Conference in Washington, DC on April 5th.
